Be part of our future

As with most corporate law firms, we typically recruit two years in advance for trainee solicitors, but we're agile enough to be able to accommodate shorter timescales where appropriate. Our website has full details of our application process as well as current opportunities and application deadlines.

Be there from the beginning

Successful applicants can have access to our bespoke Legal Beginnings Scheme.

This gives trainees the opportunity to spend half a day with us, up to twice per year in the two year period before your training contract commences. This time can be used to get to know your colleagues, find out what working at Shulmans involves, and develop some essential skills well in advance of your first day as a trainee solicitor.

“Right from the start, I was encouraged to take part in the career development scheme.”

Helen Hill, Partner & former Trainee

Be the best

When we recruit trainees, we look for individuals who understand our firm, the kind of work we do and the culture we have maintained for over 30 years.

Shulmans is looking for well-rounded candidates who can demonstrate:

- a strong academic record,
- that they share our core value of providing excellent client care and service,
- high standards, a good work ethic and an ability to fit in well with our professional culture,
- intellect balanced with common sense to provide expert and practical solutions,
- excellent communication skills and the ability to adapt quickly to new situations, clients and working styles,
- that they can work well independently and as part of a team.
